MR. HAROLD BENNETT

Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds, Board of Trustees

Died at Norway, Maine, July 5, 1961

Dedication

The class of 1962 respectfully dedicates the seventy-sixth issue of the ACADEMY HERALD to Mr. George Bowhay. Mr. Bowhay, by his excellence as a teacher of mathematics and by his outstanding capabilities as coach of baseball and junior varsity basketball, has provided guidance of immeasurable worth for many a Gould student. Therefore, in grateful appreciation for all he has done for us, we take great pleasure in making this dedication.

Sophomore Personals

The Class of '64 has completed its sophomore year with 81 members. Early in the year the class officers were elected:

President	Philip Burns
Vice-President	John Young
Treasurer	Donald R. Young
Secretary	Joanne Runyon

Now that we've become quite well acquainted with Gould, we've been wondering what would happen to some of our classmates if the rest of us weren't around to keep them in line. For instance, what would happen if:

ROBERT AMREIN: — didn't receive any feminine correspondence?

DOUGLAS BANE: — discovered that girls gave him headaches?

SAMUEL BARTHOLOMEW: — didn't go out for track?

STEPHEN BEAN: —
should suddenly become serious?

DONALD BENNET: — went to gym classes?

- MAURICE BROOKS: — couldn't drive?
- COREY BROWN: —
told us the TRUE advantages of having a seat on the inner aisle?
- ELLEN BROWN: — willed her good spirit to the freshmen?
- REGINALD BROWN: — got caught in one of his own muskrat traps?
- SARAH BURGESS: — developed a hatred of men?
- PHILIP BURNS: —
didn't take French? Merci beaucoup pour cela, Dicky.
- MARGARET BURSAW: — poor "Catch" told what the minister preached in last week's sermon?
- ALAN CHAPMAN: — remembered how to simply sing di, didi, di, didi?
- KATHLEEN CLEMONS: — was a member of the Pilgrim Fellowship?
- CHRISTINA CORLISS: — stopped saying, "Well, SOMEONE has to sleep in class?"
- JAMES CORRIVEAU: —
"Cidgigoo" was a symbol of brains and brawn in one easy lesson?
- SUSAN CRANE: —
wasn't always "diddling?" Good Lord!
- LINDA CURTIS: —
stopped hunting for someone with a drawl?
Come on, boobs!
- MICHAEL DAVENPORT: — broke another pair of skis? How many this season, Mike?
- ADELE DAVIS: —
decided to enter a convent? Amen!
- GEORGE DECOSTER: — couldn't eat four boxes of cough drops in one study hall? Is that cough for REAL, Buddy?
- WILLIAM DOWD: — didn't have a drum? What's it for, Bill?
- ANN DURAN: — had something to eat for Mr. Hillier in fifth period study hall?
- SANDRA DURAN: — suddenly shouted very loudly?
- HUGH DURGIN: — liked to have his back scratched in algebra class?
- LORRAINE EAMES: — stopped terrifying the inhabitants of the freshman class by telling them of those AWFUL shots?
- PATRICIA EAMES: — someone stepped on her "pig?"
- JOHN ELLINGWOOD: — still had his tonsils?
- GAYE FARNSWORTH: — was a member of the buttroom?
- CAROL FLINT: —
squawked on one of those high notes? High
"J," Carol?
- JOSEPHINE FOSTER: — was "pleasingly plump?"
- CYNTHIA FREEMAN: — ran out of peanut butter for gym class?
- SHEILA GILBERT: —
matched patterns correctly? Those plaids matched with stripes are "crazy," Sheila!
- CHERYL GRENIER: — wasn't long-winded? Don't get the wrong idea. "Piggy." Apologies accepted?
- THOMAS HAMILTON: —
wasn't called "Coolness?"
- ARTHUR HAMMOND: — never came to biology class?
- GREGORY HOWE: —
was called by his first name? John?
- PAUL IMHOF: — became dictator of Gould Academy? You just HAVE to like the guy! Warning to all:
don't take his pencils!
- RALPH JACKSON: — was the only boy in his family? Can you imagine what it would be like, Ralph?
- JUDITH JUDKINS: — was heard mumbling, "Where, oh where, is that unknown quantity?" She's the baby of our class but one of the best in math.
- RICHARD JACOBS: — flunked all of his subjects?
- MARTHA KENISTON: — was to be known as "Arty" rather than "Marty?"
- MEREDITH LANGLEY: — discovered how tall she really is? You're not so short for SOME people, Sis.
- GEOFFREY LORD: — my brother wasn't the girls' official "Dear Abby?"
- JANE LUXTON: — didn't have a telephone? Who are you calling now, Janie?
- GORDON MANUEL: —
ran out of risqué jokes? Got any new ones since vacation, Gordon?
- BARBARA MARTIN: —
couldn't "twist" at Abner's?
- WILLIAM MCCALL: — had a hand for a comic book, another for something to eat, and a third for a girl? Hey, Bill, where'd ya get the third hand?
- CAROLYN MELVILLE: — wasn't a "follow up" to big brother's basketball skills? Gee whiz, Carolyn, what happened to FOOTBALL?

ELINOR MILLS: — lost at a game of ping pong because she "pinged" when she should have "ponged?"

MAYNARD MORGAN: — bought another "Puppy?"

DONALD NOWLIN: — replaced a broken guitar string?

LINDA PAINE: — reformed in study hall and turned in her licorice and bubble gum to Mr. Jacobs?

ROBERT PARKER: — didn't have a box of raisins?

CHRISTINE POWERS: — worked in a machine shop?

SUSAN POWERS: —
she and Chris were sisters?

TIMOTHY RAMAGE: — challenged Charles Atlas to a duel?

CLARENCE REMINGTON: — got sick on "that" cake?

BURNHAM RICE: — proved that a baseball diamond is actually a square and because of this made the major leagues? You'll never make it, Burnie, if you eat all those cookies that I found in your desk!

BARBARA ROGERSON: — decided that Gould was as good as "ole" Houlton High?

JOANNE RUNYON: — got along with those relatives? "Love thy neighbor, Joey!"

CAROLA SCOTT: — had longer weekends to spend at the Annapolis Naval Academy?

CHERYL SMITH: — was a bit "squeamish" about dissecting in biology?

SYLVIA SMITH: — made a mistake counting change in the book store?

CHARLES SPRAGUE: —
BEGGED to be allowed to attend school?

CHRISTINE STEVENS: — didn't have her pony tail? Three feet long now, isn't it Chris?

DALE STEVENS: — was allergic to basketballs?

FLORENCE STEVENS: — lengthened her skirts?

JONATHAN STOWELL: —
REALLY didn't have any friends?

CHARLENE SWAIN: — forgot how to laugh? Ahem, eh wat?

ROBERT SWAIN: — had a halo? Not a shampoo either, Rocky!

MARY SWEETSER: —
got lost on her way to the lunchroom?

JEANNE THURBER: — trained the waiters? How much breakage allowance, Jeanne?

JANICE TINKHAM: —
lived nearer the boys' dorm or my house?
Exactly one-hundred and ninety feet, Tink.
We measured it!

CAROL TWITCHELL: —
forgot that "lonesome" guy in the Army?

ARTHUR VERRILL: — got lost in fourth period gym? Not the GIRLS', silly!

NORRIS WATERHOUSE: — wasn't called "Power?" How 'bout "Troth," Norris?

RAYMOND WEYMOUTH: — didn't wear elevators?

IRVING YORK: — hated peanuts?

DONALD E. YOUNG: — spoke to a girl?

DONALD R. YOUNG: — wasn't a devoted addict to Pepsi Cola? Bet you a six-pack he'll be buying one tonight!

JOHN YOUNG: — found out that his "little explosions" are actually powerful? Was that you flying over my house last night, John?

HOLDEN HALL AND FARNSWORTH HALL

Gehring Hall

It's a rainy Sunday afternoon; peace and quiet have closed in over Bethel—except for the girls' dorm, which is rarely peaceful and never quiet.

Third hall, by tradition, is the noisier of the two and this year, led by Adele's example, could offer stiff competition, to a jungle fight! In the first room we find Tink (Janice Tinkham), Sue Crane, Adele Davis and Patty Eames draped over chairs and beds and sprawled on the floor while they discuss the latest movie. Peggy Bursaw eyes the group with a harried expression but keeps on moving furniture around in an insatiable desire for change. That's what we like to see—perseverance!

In the hall we run into a red-robed figure hauling a voluminous laundry bag and clutching a box of soap. More laundry, Diana?

A series of grunts and wails issue from Sue Bartash's room, where Bart has entangled herself in some ligament-wrenching exercise. How anyone can keep herself to 900 calories a day is more than we can understand.

The next rooms are deserted until we reach Sue Gould and Anne Scribner's, where Pat Daley, Jane Totten, Anne and Sue are playing cards, a delightful little number called "spit."

Across the hall Jean Gillespie is perfecting the "mashed potato" and gazing purposefully at her drooping hair. Set it once more today, Jean, and you'll be bald!!

Here comes Teddy (Terry Cummings), scuffling up the hall. She is drawn to the clamor of the card game.

Willy Philbrook is dancing to "San" while her roommate, Gaye Farnsworth, idly watches Cheryl Smith come up from the buttroom and wonders. . .

The next room is dominated by a diet chart whose dictates are followed religiously by Nancy Hancock and Jane Look. They even have a record which assures them with laudable enthusiasm that giving up cake, rolls and ice cream is jolly good fun. He'll never convince US, Brother!

Karen Langley, with an angelic smile, is sleeping peacefully. We don't want to interrupt any good dream and that one looks tremendous!

The next room resembles a ladies' sewing bee. Carola Scott sits on the floor patiently working on an afghan. But those scissors that Tina Corliss is borrowing are not for cloth; she's after more pictures from her newspaper. Barbara Roger-son gazes wistfully at the Houlton News spread before her, and Joey Runyon and Sarah Burgess talk of last summer or this summer or maybe it's next summer. Well, anyway it's summer and spelled with a capital S from the sounds of it!

The only ones in the alley are Sylvia Smith and Jeanne Thurber, who are trying manfully to interpret an English assignment.

Down on second hall we find Wendy Tyson sitting on her bed listening to "Irma La Douce" with a cynical little grin while Sherry Guyler gnashes her teeth and looks at some old letters. . . .

Next we find Mary Ann Chase expounding some obscure theory in mathematics complete with little triangles to prove her point. Her roommate, Verna Philbrook, is patiently ignoring the whole tirade and drawing horses.

Callie Chandler is polishing her ski boots in the next room and looking hopefully out the window, "You can't tell this year; it's only May 15." Meredith Langley's only response is an anguished groan.

Joan Boardway comes charging up the hall shouting something—all those predictions about the quieting influence of American history don't seem to have worked out here. Her roommate, Eleanor Parker, is relearning to walk and thoroughly enjoying the process.

The next room is empty; Carolyn Ogg and Beverly Bryant are downstairs practicing their latest music.

Sandy White and Jane Allen are congregated in the next room scheming the next trip to Hebron, much to the amusement of Pinky (Mary Lee Gunn).

Farther on we find the four roommates, Debbie Appleton, Martha Gayton, Howie Cole, and Linnette Gushee. Martha is teasing Debbie's hair while Howie inspects the dressers for new shades of lipstick. Gush reads the latest installment to Modern Method and both make appropriate comparisons to an Australian bushman.

A cry of frustration comes from the dark recesses of Marsha Langley's closet as she searches for something suitable for a weekend with J. F. K. at Worcester Tech. Carlee Astle has arrived, armed with brush rollers, bobby pins and comb to earn a pack of cigarettes by setting Marsha's hair, a profitable business around here.

Across the hall, Kathy Towne is hurriedly reading a copy of Atlas Shrugged from Jane Carver, who is reading it at the same time. Her roommate, Mary Eaton, looks skeptically into the mirror, then tries on another pair of Bermuda shorts.

The door to Martha MacQuin's room is closed to the world as she and Jane Carver hold another of their esoteric conversations.

The buzzer rings and Joni Austin tears out of her room to answer, a box of note paper in her hand. "Long distance for Myrla Mitchell". The cry, as familiar as bells, echoes in the hall as "Cricket" calmly walks downstairs.

Now we enter Senior Alley, where we see Eleanor Lougee, the accepted interloper, reading one of the books she "borrowed" from her brother.

Around the corner, Madge Ward is sitting staring vacantly at the book on her desk and thinking of the calendar which measures in days the short time remaining in high school.

As we suspected, there's Peg Davis leaning out her window and singing a refrain from the Texaco ad while her roommate, Margie Dallinger, contemplates murder or suicide. Please, Peg, don't sing! Oh well, If you can't fight 'em join 'em— with harmony of dubious value —

"You can trust your car
To the man who wears the star..."
And so it goes.

Holden Hall and Farnsworth House

It sounds somewhat odd to hear that our dorm life can be everything at once: explosive, quiet, fun, dull, mischievous, angelic (sometimes). Follow me through Holden Hall and Farnsworth House, and you'll see just what I mean.

As we approach Holden, everything is quiet and peaceful, for it is in the afternoon, when the construction site is serene in contrast to the mornings when the teachers can't be heard (or won't be heard). At any rate, we are met with a cacophonous mixture of twangs, plinks, and bongs coming from the T.V. room. Just as I thought—Kellers, Swift and Danca trying to play jazz. At least it's keeping Pete Swift from climbing around the side of the building. Let's go, before we get as affected as the audience—"Pud" Howard, Jack Andrews, Tom Day, Paul Knight—who is twitching to Ist, I mean itching to Twist (Oops!)

Leaving the gameroom, we come to Doug Rosen's room, where we find Doug, with a music lover's expression of distasteful pain, trying hard to listen to his favorite Chopin record, and wishing Kellers would play something different for once.

From Doug's room we come to Bill McCall and Bruce Moulton's room; they are both standing in the middle of the room, irately mouthing certain expressions (-*#@?% '$' / & !!!) which are indicative to everyone that Jack Taylor has just done it again. This time, he made mudpies and threw them on the two boys' beds and walls. Have fun, you guys!

Let's go down the alley. Dave Kibbe, present candidate for class romance of 1965, is not here; he must be uptown with Jane. I hear some laughter in Paul Imhof and Ray Wymouth's room. Paul, Ray, Bill Dowd, Rolfe Foxwell, and Bob Swain are all having a bull session and playing Flinch at the same time. Poor Bob has been receiving most of the hits. Hey Paul! Flinch! Ah ha, I got you!

Now to the basement. Rafael Gutierrez and Gordon Manuel are having a bout of ping pong. Rafael, as usual, is tapping out Latin drum rhythms while skunking Manuel for a second time. We see a pool game going on between Jack Cameron and Bill Boynton. I'll never get a chance to find out who's winning—Jack won't stop talking.

Next, of course, is the domain of the "Buttcrushers." Let's take roll call. There's the "Mole" (Dave Gardner), Jim Weston, "Ackley" (nobody knows his real name), the "Worm" (Tom Gilbert), the "Wasp" (Steve Fairbanks), the "Moose" (Brian Scothorne), and Dick Moody. They are all talking about things in general and griping about things in specific (such as no twisting); Moody, rather than trying to argue with Mr. Kailey, is trying to vent his opinion on current affairs. The sound reminds us of Filene's Basement in Boston.

Going up to the second floor, we come to Geoffrey Lord's room; he's at his desk, intently reading an assignment. Wait a minute . . . that's not homework. I should have known—comic books! I'll be in to help you read them later, Geoffrey.

We come next to Jim Bancroft's abode. Dick Mayo and John Bartash are with him, telling about each other's escapades last New Year's Eve. Oh yes, Dick is telling of the party he went to and of how much . . . I can't give any incriminating evidence.

Dave Miller's room appears to be quiet; hmmm, the lights are out. He must be outside. No, he's noisily sleeping away, dreaming of the coast and of sailboats.

Now we enter Jay Langley and Steve Parent's room; with them are Jim Corribeau, Mike Davenport, Al Blunt, and Frank Emery. They are talking about girls (naturally!), skiing, PARTIES, "and many other things, too." Jay is also trying to teach Al how to yodel (after all, that's what makes half the skier).

Going to the end of the hall, we come to Gary Hill and Dave Hawkes' room, which is full of other boys. "Topper" Hamilton is stretched across Gary's sagging bed, and Phil Burns is walking up and down his back, trying to crack it a few times. Tony Moulton, as usual, is doing his balancing act on the end of the bed with a handful of Gary's Kleenex tissues in one hand. "Olive" Spooner is sitting on the bed, listening and singing along to the Highwaymen's "Johnny with the Bandy Legs." Dave Hawkes is somehow quietly and coolly studying the latest issue of Sports Illustrated. Arthur Hammond is asking Gary why he is so quiet and why he is gripping his club and WHY his face is so red, Steve Bean backing up these queries with a Yogi Bear voice. Let's leave — Gary's near the breaking point.

Down the alley, we find that Brian McCrodden is not in his room. At the moment he is probably devoting his time to a member of the fair sex. Right across from this room, we see Tom "Coolness" Hamilton sitting on his bed, holding a guitar in his hands. He coolly plays a soft cord; then, after taking time to build up some "cool" energy, he plays another "cool" chord. Ah, the life of true leisure!

At the end of the alley, we find a dark room in which soft, sleepy music is heard. Bob Amrein and Rick Wyman are comfortably sleeping. Remind me later to ask Rick why he has those small sneakers wrapped around his neck.

Now let's go down to Farnsworth. After struggling with that front door, we can finally get in. Going to the right, we find Scott Cummings and Steve Groves, cleaning their room!? Wonders upon wonders! Then they curtly tell us that Mr. Scott won't let them leave their room until they have cleaned it. Well, we had better leave, so that they can get through before midnight.

In Harry "Mugger" Brown and Steve Maxam's room we encounter an argument about two subjects. Harry is telling Steve that the lights in the room are going out at eight-thirty every night, to which Steve grumblingly protests and then complies. But when Harry tells Steve that he can't play the "War of 1812" at six A.M. every day, music-minded Steve does not give in so easily.

In closing, I would like to thank Mr. Emery in behalf of the Holden Hall boys for the wonderful job he has done in running the dormitory. Just ask any of us what Mr. Emery is like as head of the dorm. Your answer: "He's tops!"

ORGANIZATIONS

Student Council

The Student Council has been quite active this year. First of all, we decided to write a new constitution, because the old one had so many faults.

Mr. Myers brought up the idea of having a council which would be represented by the different activities on the school campus. He also volunteered to draw up such a constitution.

It was finished by the middle of January. On April 24, it was brought to the notice of the student body, and on April 24 they voted as follows: First, to accept it. Second, to allow the present

Student Council to choose membership from each organization.

Besides sponsoring the Friday Night Dances and making available the movies and many other activities, the council is sending Peter Grover to the National Conference in California. He was also elected as President of the Western Maine Regional Conference of Student Councils for next year.

Another activity has been a safety program which was started at the state conference around November.

Third row: Trafton Foster, Ira Hubbard, David Miller, Tim Brooks, George Eypper, Stanley Howe, Brian McCrodden, Mr. Thompson.

The Blue and Gold

The 1961-1962 season marked the twentieth year of publication for the Gould Academy Blue and Gold. As successful as ever, the paper was distributed through the school, across Bethel, and turned up in the homes of alumni and the libraries and reading rooms of many other schools.

Under the eyes of two conscientious co-editors, Margie Dallinger and Margaret Davis, went the work of an enthusiastic staff. Write-ups on school functions, play by play accounts of games, editorials, the Headmaster's Corner, senior personals, exchange columns — all were to be found in the Blue and Gold.

An ambitious drive at the outset of the year brought many new advertisers to the columns of the paper. The profit thus earned enabled a seventh issue to be printed during the school year.

Many have put their own time and effort into the work of turning out a school paper. Credit is due to the Camera Club for their photographs, the staff for their cooperation, and to Mr. Carl Brown for his fine printing job, the final step in the realization of our publication. As always we give special recognition to Mr. David Thompson, who has guided the paper since its founding with expert direction and advice.

Musical Activities

As in previous years the music room has seldom been lacking in students who are either tooting a horn or exercising their vocal cords during activity periods. The band, consisting of thirty-five members, played at football and basketball games, cheering the team on. The band played at Parents' Day, and the lively tunes were well received. During the fall and winter the band members worked hard on music that was presented in a concert March 2. Playing between acts at the Three One Act and Senior plays, the band contributed to the evenings. On May 26 it presented a selection of music in the spring concert. Making its final appearance for '62, the band played for Graduation exercises. To promote the band for next year, a committee headed by Norma Kimball has been organized. Under Mr. Owen's able direction, the band has continued to improve throughout the year.

The William Rogers Chapman Club members have worked many hours this spring on music which was presented in an assembly program May 24. The Chapman Club members presented other assemblies at Thanksgiving and Christmas. Pins for deserving members were ordered and given to those who earned them. The officers for the year were Steve Dock, president; Dwight Lord, vice-president; and Steve Maxam, secretary-treasurer.

The Varsity Glee Club made its debut at the annual Christmas Vespers, presenting an exchange concert with Hebron Academy. Much credit should be given to the Hebron boys, the Gould singers, our accompanist, Mr. Shea and Mr. Owen for the excellent performance. The glee club sang in the spring concert. On June 10, the Baccalaureate Choir and Varsity Glee Club sang again for the Commencement exercises.

In November, several members from the band and glee club participated in the Western Maine Music Festival, held at South Portland. In April, Dwight Lord and Brian McCrodden went to the All State Music Festival in the band, while Beverly Bryant and Steve Maxam went in the chorus. On April 28 thirty students participated in the Independent Schools' Music Festival at Bridgton.

Once again the musical activities have added much to the school year. Much credit should be given Mr. Owen for his patience and time spent on the musical organizations.

French Club

This year's French Club was active on occasions other than the two Friday night dances which it sponsored in the fall.

On the Wednesday night before Christmas vacation, Mr. Taylor led the club on a caroling jaunt along Church Street. After the caroling Mr. and Mrs. Vachon invited the club into their home and served hot chocolate and cookies.

In April, the French Club Party was held in Farnsworth Gymnasium. Due to the help of non club members as well as that of club members, the evening was a success. Perhaps the greatest attraction was the Can-can dance. The Party was completed with elaborate decorations and punch and French pastries.

Club officers elected at the beginning of the year were: secretary, Martha MacQuinn; treasurer, Steve Saunders; vice-president, Betsy Vinton; president, Tony Moulton.

FARNSWORTH HOUSE

Art

This is the second year Mr. James Owen has directed an art class here at Gould Academy. This year it has been expanded to a two-year course.

The first year art started working on water colors in the fall; from there they worked with charcoal. Beginning with the winter term, Art I worked on their own creations which will be exhibited in an art show at the end of this year. Art I worked with clay, plaster, wood, water colors and oils.

In the fall the Art II class had projects with jewelry and pottery. The latter half of the year Art II have worked on different types of paintings, sculptoring and any inspiration which is of their own creation.

The two classes combined their efforts to make all the props for the Senior Class play. They have also combined together to make the display case for the art show.

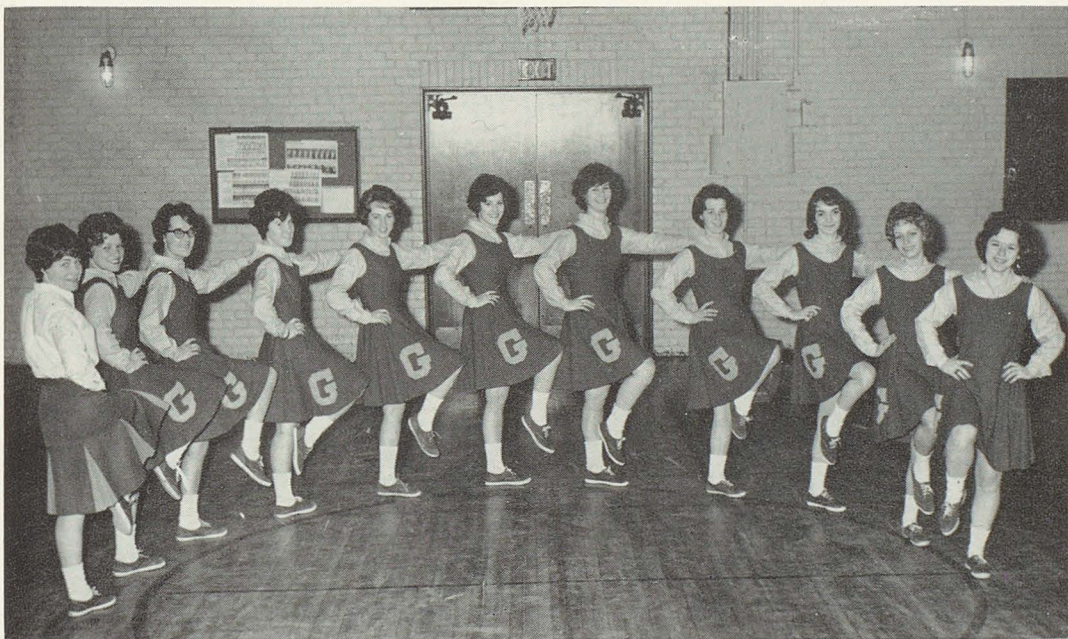

Each year Gould's art course is improving with Mr. Owen's time and ideas. All his art students give thanks to him.

CAMERA CLUB OFFICERS.

Camera Club

This year, as in past years, the Camera Club has played an important role as a school organization. Besides its service to the school as a whole, it has stimulated photographic interest in many students, an interest which can be carried throughout their lives.

The officers of the club for this year were elected in the spring of 1961: president, David Hawkes; vice president, Alan Blunt; secretary, Evelyn Sprague; and treasurer, Raymond Weymouth.

The main program for the members of the Camera Club consists of twenty meetings held on alternate Wednesdays. These meetings, capably prepared by the Program Chairman, Brian Scothorne, included instructional slides and tapes, as well as interesting movies illustrating good photography.

The Camera Club serves Gould by providing photographs for the Blue and Gold, the Academy Herald, and for publicity purposes. Each issue of the school newspaper contains photographs taken by members of the Camera Club and many of the local newspapers use photos taken by the club members. The Camera Club also sells activity prints to the student body, which include photos of sports events and team pictures.

The club darkroom in Holden Hall, under the guidance of Darkroom Chairman Stephen Fairbanks, has had extensive use this year, not only from regular club work but also from enthusiastic members doing work on their own.

New members have had the chance to develop their interest in photography. Instruction has been given to interested members in the processes of developing and printing, knowledge which they have been able to use in making activity prints.

The members of the Camera Club have a chance to exhibit their skill in the combined art and photography exhibit in June. All the skill that the members have gained in one year or many years is used in the making of these exhibition prints.

This year's exhibition marks the end of another successful year and the beginning of another.

Future Homemakers of America

The Gould Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America is one of the better known and more active organizations on the Gould campus. This year under the able guidance of Loretta Blake and Linda Nickerson we are striving to develop our projects and activities from the four objectives.

The first objective is to develop our potential abilities. Two goals under this objective are (1) to help us discover our abilities and through these contribute more creatively to our home, school, and community, (2) to help us learn how to manage time, money, and energy wisely.

The second objective is to develop a better understanding of our family members and to contribute to their well-being. Two activities under this objective are (1) to show members the importance of good health procedures for all family members. (2) to plan a program "the need of complete understanding of co-operation when both parents work."

The District E convention was held at Gould on October 26, 1961, in the William Bingham Gymnasium. Some of the members had a part in the program working with the theme "Teenage Image."

We were fortunate enough to have as speakers at the convention: Miss Lois Oliver, national advisor from Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Louise Fettingier, state advisor; and Miss Jane Reed, assistant state advisor.

Linda Nickerson was overwhelmingly elected District E Chairman for 1961-1962. She is quite suited for the job since she was district secretary for the year 1960-61.

Some of the projects for this year are fudge sales, birthday calendars, stuffed animals, and sponsored dances. At Christmas time we had a special project called toys for tots. Members of the chapter collected old and broken toys, then fixed them up and turned them over to the local Welfare group for distribution.

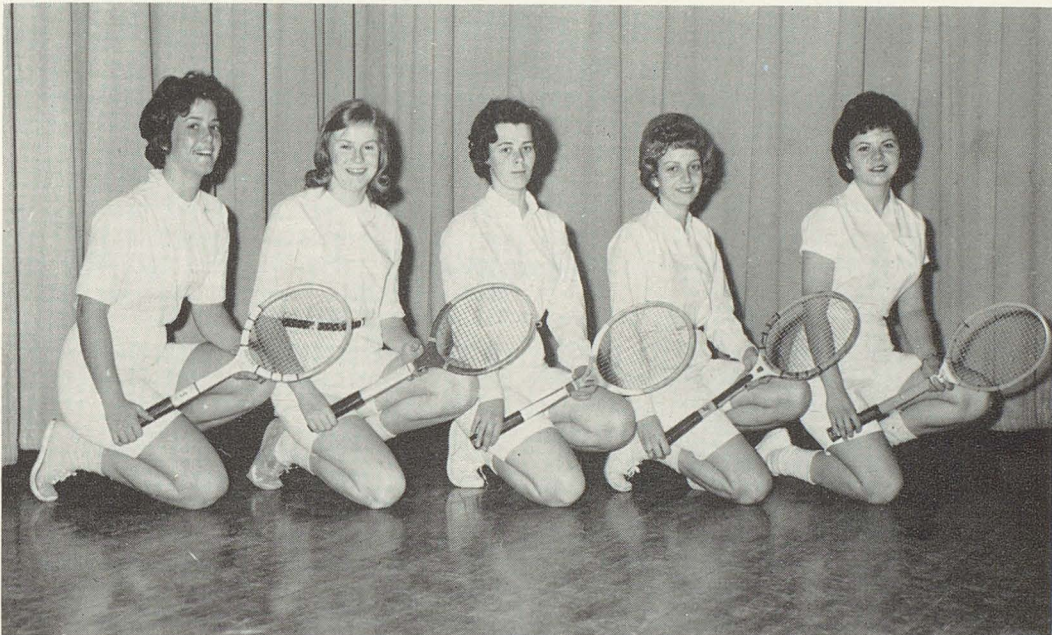

Working to emphasize their over-all goals, the 36 members hold meetings twice a month under the leadership of the executive council consisting of president, Loretta Blake; vice president, Linda Nickerson; secretary, Caroline Poland; treasurer, Nancy Brown; parliamentarian, Freda Bennett; social and recreation chairman, Sandra Hatch; historian, Josephine Foster; and public relation's chairman, Ellen Brown.

The chapter was very fortunate in sending another delegate to the National Convention which was held the summer of 1961 in St. Louis, Missouri. This delegate was Loretta Blake. She reported back to us the fall of 1961 all the things that had been done and what was going to be done in the future.

Much appreciation and thanks go to Miss Minot for her help in making the year 1961-62 in F.H.A. a successful one.

Dramatics

On Saturday night, January 26, 1962, as the last notes of the band faded away and the houselights dimmed, the curtain opened on the last Three One-Act Plays to be presented in the William Bingham Gymnasium.

In the first play, "Sweet? Sixteen," Candy Stewart (Jane Allen) and her mother (Linda Paine) were trying desperately to think of a way to civilize Candy's younger brother Jim (Phil Burns). Jim's sixteenth birthday was coming up, so Candy, together with the help of her friends, Terry (Sharon Cole) and Sandra, (Nancy Hancock), began to plot a party for Jim with "girls and everything." Also in this plot was Maybelle (Beth Brown), who turned against Candy and helped Jim and his father (Stan Howe) try to turn the tables on Candy. Naturally, Maybelle would help Jim only if she got a date with him to the Football Frolic. The results were hilarious, adding plenty of surprise action.

Gould's offering of a more serious drama resulted in "Mirage", an excellent production. Eben Mortimer (Steve Maxam) was up to his ears in debt because his wife, Ann (Sharon York) had to have the best of everything. While he was trying to cut off Ann's accounts, his secretary, Mary Sutton (Kathy Clemmons) interrupted to tell him that Robert Sheldon (Walter Grover) was waiting to see him. Sheldon had been in jail for ten years, framed for embezzlement by Mortimer. He was now demanding payment in the form of $100,000 for those lost years. At this point Ann interrupted angrily, wanting to know why her accounts were cancelled. Eben managed to calm her and send her away. Sheldon then came back, revealing that Ann was once his fiancée, and she had run out after he was imprisoned. Realizing that Ann was punishment enough, Sheldon withdrew his demand for the $100,000.

"Four Little Words", a rip-roaring comedy, nearly brought the house down. It seemed that Mr. Figit (Steve Dock) was about to put his new play into rehearsal and needed only one more actress to fill the part of a maid. Now this maid had but four little words in the whole play: "Your taxicab is waiting." Ready to try out for this part were seven actresses and the Bapps, each with a different interpretation of just how these four little words should be spoken. There are a Shakespearian actress (Coleen Bean), a small speedster (Sharon Cole), a weeping daisy (Adele Davis), an adoring dramatist (Nancy Hancock), a Southern belle (Jane Look), and an operatic alto (Cheryl Douglass). Mr. Figit's housekeeper, Mrs. Crank (Carol Young) got her grunts and groans into the act. The office boy, Jimmy Bright (Doug Rosen) managed to add his two cents' worth, too. Mrs. Verna Bapp (Linda Lord) was sure that her little Oriole (Sylvia Smith) was also just right for the part. Gladwyn Bapp, her long-suffering husband (Al Blunt) was sure of only one thing — neither of them was long for this world. There was, of course, one actress who got the part (Claudia DeMonte). The reason — she didn't speak English, and by this time, Mr. Figit never wanted to hear English again.

Much credit goes to Mr. Vogt for his excellent and tireless efforts to present these plays much sooner than usual. Thanks also goes to stage manager, Gary Hill, his capable crew, Dave Kibbe, Larry Jacobs and John Ellingwood; the make-up artists, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Jacobs, and Mr. Roderick; also, to Mr. Owen and the band for the excellent music presented during the intermission.

THE SENIOR PLAY

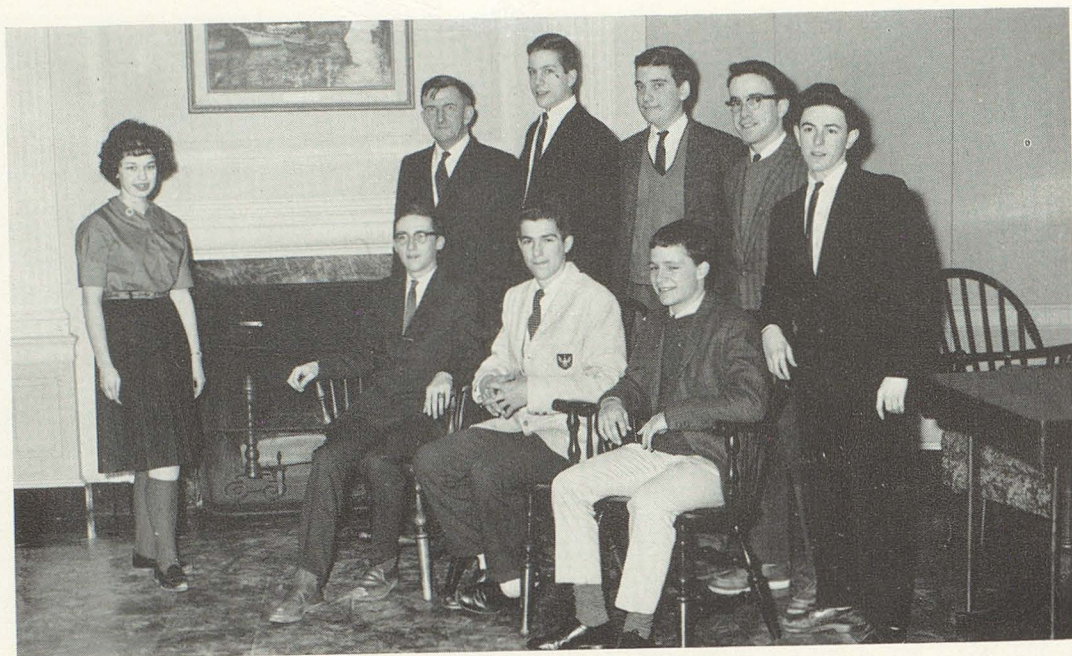

Friday, March 9, 1962, amid tears and applause, the curtains of the William Bingham Gymnasium stage drew slowly closed upon the last Senior Play to be presented in this building. To do justice to this memorable event, the senior cast came across with a quick-moving, rollicking comedy, Ask Any Girl, which has been portrayed on the screen by David Niven and Shirley MacLaine. Not professing to be equal to that performance, but nevertheless doing a splendid job in the lead roles were Gary Hill (Miles Doughton) and Wendy Tyson (Meg Wheeler).

Meg and Miles were brought together by the intricate sub-conscious manipulations of "Motivation Research." Miles' brother (Tim Brooks, the dashing play-boy), caught Meg's eye at the beginning of the story, and her methods of catching HIM compromise the theme of the play. The scene was set in New York's Madison Avenue Girls' Hotel, where the audience was introduced to the charming but bored switch-board operator Ada (Peg Davis), the aspiring, sophisticated actress Lisa (Deborah Appleton), the patient ingenues, Ruby (Sharon Cole) and Heidi (Joan Austin) and Miles' all-business secretary, Terri (Peggy Nelson); Jeannie (Carol Young) found her match-mate in the hulking stature of Alvin (Al Blunt), D&D's senior shipping clerk. Ada soon came to appreciate the artistic efforts of Vince (Steve Groves), the junior shipping clerk. As a result of many hilarious encounters and alarming phone calls, Meg's family — her Father (Dick Moody), Mother (Elizabeth Waldron), Aunt Fern (Cheryl Douglass) and Aunt Lettie (Beth Brown) — hurried to New York to find Meg now engaged to Miles. Eban had already diverted his interests to two newcomers, Jane (Sharon York) and Ellen (Claudia DeMonte).

A great deal of hard work and extra time was devoted to putting this play on before commencement of the dismantling of the gym. Much credit goes to Mr. Thompson, who coached the cast through thick and thin, Mr. Owen and his art classes, who did a terrific job on the scenery, and Stan Howe and Madge Ward for their help backstage. It was a night and play not soon to be forgotten; the Senior Class, especially, will hold it as one of their fondest memories.

DEBATING CLUB

Debating Club

During the past year the Debating Club, though limited by small membership, was able to carry out a fairly extensive program.

During the opening meetings the returning lettermen, George Eypper and Trafton Foster, the veterans, and recruits gave three minute speeches, having had five minutes in which to prepare them. These are repeated at the end of the year, and points are given for improvement. This is part of the system by which members may earn letters.

The national debate topic on Federal Aid to Education was debated and discussed to improve skills and give the members a knowledge of the topic.

During November four debaters entered the statewide competitive discussion groups at the annual Bates tourney. In the expert division, George Eypper and Trafton Foster competed while Nancy Hancock and Dick Jacobs took part in the novice division. The whole four placed well.

In December George Eypper and Trafton Foster took part in the annual Bowdoin forums in the expert division, the rather obscure subject being on abolishing the House Committee on Un-American Activities—it was a very worthwhile experience.

Following these large competitions, the club participated in a practice debate with Bridgton Academy on the national topic, a discussion group with the Sabattus High School Debating Club, and various debates among themselves.

The members of the club worked through April on speeches for the Knights of Pythias Speaking Contest, the titles of the speeches being My Hope For My Country. Various hopes were the Atlantic Union, Peace Corps, and Strengthened Liberal Government.

Having finished a successful year, the debating club wishes to thank the coach, Mr. Vinton, for his work with the members.

Outing Club

The Executive Council of the Gould Academy Outing Club initiated last year has proved to be effective in the discussion of problems and the organization of activities sponsored by the entire club.

This year the Outing Club planned its annual mountain climbing trip to Mt. Washington, as well as trips in the surrounding area, including Barker Mountain. It has also sponsored trips to Sunday River in the ski season.

Each year the Outing Club's biggest undertaking is Winter Carnival, which was as huge a success as ever this March, including the inter-class relay races and skiing events, which were challenged by a faculty team, the coronation and the Carnival Ball.

Elected to represent the Outing Club in the Student Council next year are Marsha Langley and Mike Davenport.

The officers are as follows: Gary Hill, president; Nancy Cole, vice-president; Peggy Davis, secretary; Sharon Cole, treasurer.

Football

On the bright sunshiny day of September 6, 1961, some fifty boys reported to the field house to take their physical examinations. These young men were later to be known as the rough and ready football squad of Gould Academy. Later that same afternoon, all the boys, clad in gym shorts and cleats, listened to Mr. Scott, the head coach (along with Mr. Kailey, Mr. Cousins, and Mr. Roderick) review the fundamentals of the game. The next week we started our rigorous schedule of practice from 3:00 p.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The following Saturday, Lyndon Institute from Lyndonville, Vermont, journeyed to our campus to meet a 31-0 defeat.

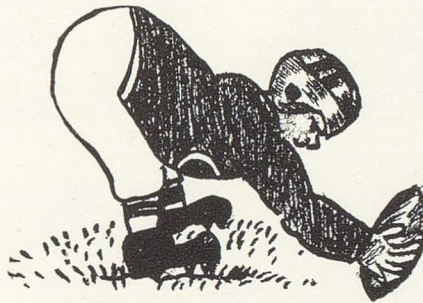

Since this was our first game, it gave us a good feeling, and we knew right then and there that we would be in the running for the State Class "C" championship.

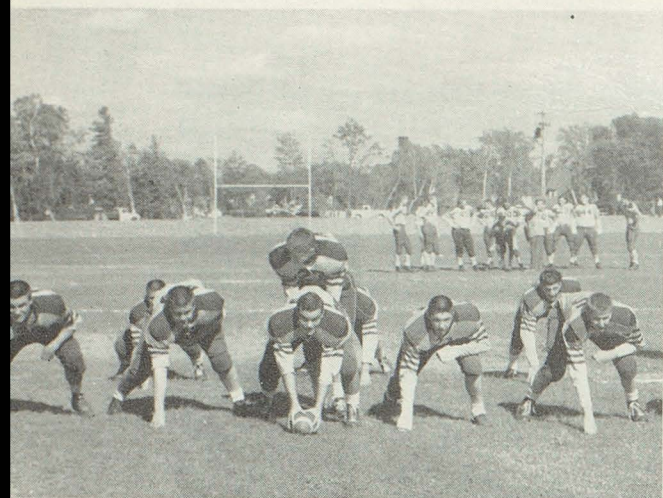

We went to Bridgton the following week, where the J. V.'s and the freshmen played the biggest part of the game, again emerging victorious by some 50 points. On Parents' Day, Oxford Hills came to visit but went home in defeat. Mexico welcomed us to lots of mud and rain, where we again brought home another victory (48-0). A long busride to Kennebunk was in store for us the next Saturday, and we fought it out in an overwhelming 33-13 victory. We were now ahead in points for the State title, but Lisbon Falls was a close second. Our game with them almost proved fatal for both teams, as they lost their opportunity to break the 6-6 deadlock, as we did twice. After our 9 weeks' exams, we went to Fryeburg Academy to defend an 18-year-old winning streak, an undefeated season, and the State title as well. At half time we were ahead 20-7, but the stronger boys from Fryeburg caught fire in the last few minutes to give them a decisive 26-20 victory.

All in all, we have had one of the best seasons of any previous Gould team, as we lost only one game, and held down to 41 our total number of points scored upon, scoring an overwhelming 212 on our opponents. All the boys wish to thank Mr. Scott for all that he has done for them, and we all wish Harry Kimball the best of luck as next year's captain.

Cross Country

When the cross-country season opened last fall, four lettermen reported. They were Ed Tibbetts, Captain, Dan Grover, Fred Judkins, and Al Ring. This gave a strong center around which Coach Frank Vogt could build his team. To fill the position of the fifth man on the team a lot of eager talent was available. These were Clarence (Sonny) Remington, Steve Dock, Tim Brooks, Ralph Jackson, Trafton Foster, Bob Swain, Tony Chapman, Richard Hawkes, Paul Knight, Larry Jacobs, Eric Paul and Raymond Saunders.

Our manager was Raymond Weymouth with Jon Stowell assisting him.

At the start of the season we did a lot of calisthenics to condition ourselves for the running we were soon to do.

Our first meet came with Fryeburg. The team had hopes of repeating the last year's performance of a perfect score. The meet is scored with the first man getting one point, the next man two points, the third man three points, etc. The first five men on the team complete the scoring, and the team with the lowest score wins the meet. We came pretty close to a perfect score with the four lettermen taking the first four places and Richard Hawkes getting sixth position to complete the scoring. Final Score: Gould 16, Fryeburg 43.

Our next meet was a tri-meet with Mexico and Bridgton; Gould was the victor in this meet. Fred Judkins placed first, Captain Ed Tibbetts second, Al Ring third, Dan Grover fourth, and Sonny Remington ninth to complete our score. Final tally; Gould 19, Mexico 51, and Bridgton 61.

In the next meet with Portland High School the Gould Harriers made it three straight. Score: Gould 19 and Portland 38.

The next meet was with a strong Phillips squad. In the battle for first place in the meet, Fred Judkins barely out-sprinted Phillips ace, Butch Ellis. Ed Tibbetts took third honors with Dan Grover following him in. Al Ring took seventh and Sonny Remington tenth to complete our score. Steve Dock placed twelfth in that meet. Score: Gould 25 and Phillips 30. Winning time: 12:56.

The meet before the state meet was with Hebron Academy. Last year the Hebron team had humbled our over-confident team. This year we were not over-confident and out to win. We did by the close score of 24 to 31. Fred Judkins and Captain Ed Tibbetts placed one, two to lead the squad to victory.

The team now trained hard for the state meet. With a victorious season we had hopes of becoming state champs.

In the largest field of runners in the history of the meet, Gould's team came in third. Schenck was the winner with a total of 76 points. Gorham was second with 92, and our team scored 99 for third place. Fred Judkins was class M champion, and Ed Tibbetts ran hard, taking third honors. Dan Grover finished 10th, Al Ring 27th and Steve Dock 54th.

The state of Maine is able to enter the first three teams in the state into the New England meet. These teams are selected on elapsed time of the team. Gould Academy's team had the second fastest time and was eligible for a place in the meet. This was an honor for the team.

Mr. Vogt and Mr. Richardson took us to the meet which was to be held in Storrs, Connecticut. In the very strong field of runners, Gould wound up in twelfth position. Fred Judkins was the first Gould and first Maine runner to cross the finish line and came in 20th. Captain Ed Tibbetts was 37th, Alan Ring 112th, Dan Grover 114th, Sonny Remington 135th and Steve Dock 136th.

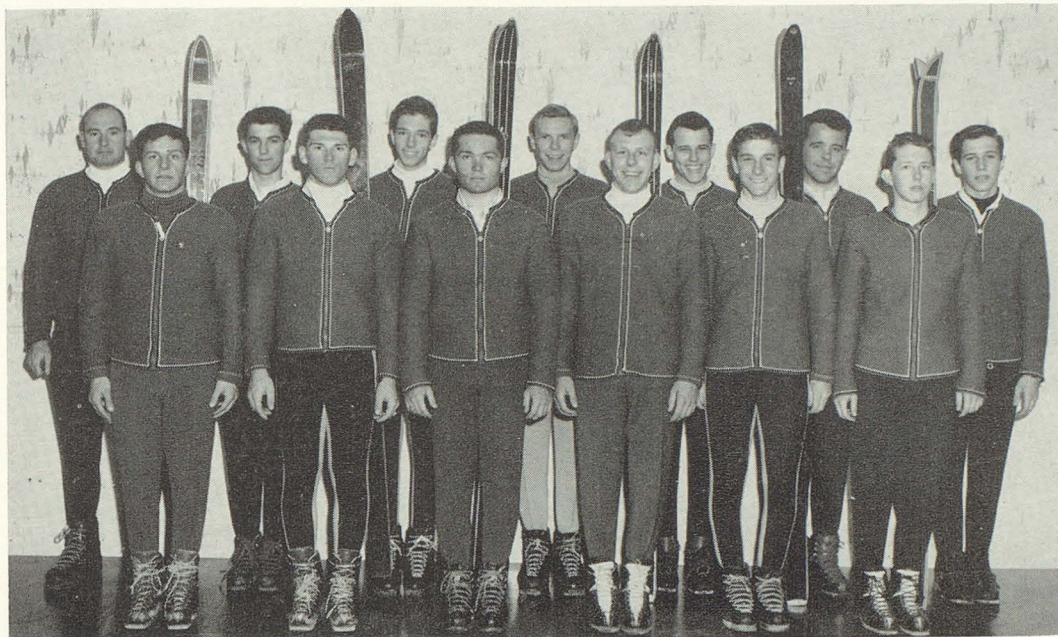

The New England meet was a crowning event to a successful season. In the regular competition the team was undefeated.

The J.V. team, paced by Sonny Remington, won their lone meet from Oxford Hills and Mechanic Falls.

A successful season and best of luck to Dan Grover, Captain-elect, and his next year's team.

SKI TEAM

Skiing

The ski team again this year captured the New England Championship, making it the second in two straight years. Our success was due to many factors: a hard driving coach, excellent skiers, and a great deal of luck. The team was fortunate to have six returning lettermen, Captain Steve Saunders, Jay Langley, Steve Parent, Jim Corriveau, Pete Davis, and Rick Wyman. We were also blessed with four more excellent skiers in their fields. They were Greg Howe, Frank Emery, Alan Chapman, Mike Davenport.

As the season opened this year and practice started, we all had our doubts about the success of the team. Many afternoons were spent running through the woods, playing football, and playing soccer before the first snowfall. The conditioning at the time seemed rough, but the coach kept reminding us that the better the condition we got in before the meets started the easier it would be on us during the season. Some of those soccer games were pretty rough, huh, Coach?

With the first snowfall we immediately got onto the cross country skis and began many long grueling hours of practice. As time passed, we began to get a little more confident of the team's ability; everyone was shaping up well.

The second weekend after our Christmas vacation we had our first meet, which was with Holderness. Due to snow conditions it was held here as were the three succeeding meets. Holderness meet was a boost to our morale, for we took it with a fairly large margin. The team performed well, and we got a glimpse of that distant goal, the New England's.

January 26 and 27 was the Edward Little Carnival, which was held here because of the lack of snow at Bridgton and Auburn. This meet upset the apple cart, so to speak. Our team was beaten badly, and we got a great deal of our confidence knocked out of us. Farmington was victorious with Gould well down the list of competing teams. As we look back on this meet, we all feel that maybe this is what we needed, for in following meets we went in with fight and determination not to get beaten again.

February 2 and 3 was the Hanover Kennett meet, in which Gould came out victorious. With this victory the New England goal came closer.

The following week of February 9 and 10, the State meet was held at Rumford. Here Gould was up against the same teams they had already competed against. There was only one difference—this was for keeps. Gould's team performed well that weekend even though the conditions were ice and hard pack. Friday morning was the cross country. Gould claimed some of the top places with Mike Davenport 3rd, Steve Parent 7th, Jim Corriveau 10th, Rick Wyman 12th, and Steve Saunders 13th. In the Giant Slalom, Jay took first, Frank Emery 2nd, Steve Parent 3rd, and Jim Corriveau 8th. This combination was to put the team ahead at the end of the first day. Saturday, the Slalom and Jumping were held. In the Slalom, with icy conditions, Gould was working for a team score. This we had trouble doing, and there were many who were sweating for a while. Jay took 6th, Rick 9th, Steve Parent 15th and Mike 19th. Thus we went into the jumping with a few worries, but the jumping team came through with great style. Pete took first with Steve Parent 2nd, Greg Howe 7th, Steve Saunders 10th and Alan Chapman 14th. Thus Gould won their second State Championship, and we were on our way to the New England's.

The New England's were held in Hanover, New Hampshire, February 16 and 17. When we arrived on the 15th, we looked the cross country course over and went out to the Dartmouth Skiway to have a look at the slalom. It was going to be a rough meet and we knew it. Friday morning the slalom was held at the Dartmouth Skiway. The conditions weren't good so we decided to work for a team score again which we succeeded in getting. That afternoon we were to run the cross country. Here was real competition. The team didn't do too well, and we came out of the cross country with not too good a standing.

Saturday morning we were back at the Dartmouth Skiway for the Giant Slalom. This time, as Coach said, it was all or nothing. We really gave it everything we had, and it proved to be what we needed, for Jay got 2nd, Steve Parent 4th and Frank Emery 5th. This was a real boost to our morale. We went into the jumping with the sight of that trophy flickering in our eyes. As the jumping proceeded, it began to look even better for the team. Pete took first with Steve Parent taking 4th. Steve Saunders, Greg Howe and Alan Chapman gave the team the backing that was needed. The event was clinched, and the Gould team became victorious for the second time.

Well, boys, we did it again. It was rough but a lot of fun also. The steak dinner afterwards was very welcome after two hard days of competition. Boy, those steaks were good, huh, boys? What we thought would be a long and tiring ride home was really not so bad after all, knowing that we were New England Champions.

Many thanks go out to our Coach, Mr. Kailey, with his sometimes gruff but always understanding way. The team wishes also to thank the Sunday River Skiway for their cooperation. It was a big help to be able to practice out there every day, and also to be able to hold our meets there.

The best of luck to next year's team and Captain Mike Davenport. Good luck, boys; give them everything you've got. Thanks again, Coach; it was a great season.

Basketball

On November 7, 1961, 17 boys appeared at the Field House with Coach Taylor to organize what was hoped to be a successful basketball team. Coach Taylor was very enthusiastic about the possibilities as were the others who were at practice that first day. Although only two lettermen were returning from last year, P. Hamilton and S. Cummings, there were some new possibilities who had come to Gould and several hopefuls from the J. V. squad of 1960.

Although through the season the scores were usually on the side of our opponents, spectators who saw our games noticed a big improvement as the season progressed. The Maine State Principals' Association also noticed our improvement, and because of their observation the point system of rating basketball teams was brought up and criticized. Was it fair to rate low a team who had lost all of their games but had nearly beaten the number one team in a double overtime?

The 1961 season opened at Fryeburg after three weeks of hard practice. Although the score was in favor of Fryeburg by 13 points, the boys played an equally matched game but were knocked out of the winning by a poor percentage of foul shots.

In our next contest, with Oxford Hills, Gould was defeated again not by playing ability but again by the lack of skill at the charity stripe. Paul Hamilton took the scoring honors with 19 points while Al Ring and Scott Cummings each got 8 points. The attack for Oxford Hills was lead by Fred Lovejoy and Tommy Noyes, scoring 18 and 12 points respectively.

Bridgton High School, with Ken Whitney, a good athlete and a smooth shot, played us here at our own court next. This was a very exciting game, not so much in the first three quarters, but Gould came up from behind in the fourth quarter to give Bridgton a well played game. Paul Hamilton and Alan Ring lead the attack with 26 points between them. Although Ken Whitney was held down to 19 points, he offered the leadership necessary to support the weaker members of his team and bring them to victory.

Gould traveled to Jay, Maine, to play their last game before Christmas vacation. At Jay the team just couldn't seem to get itself going. Jim Weston, however, played a very nice game with 12 points and much enthusiasm to spur his teammates on. Gould was overpowered by Henry and Jewett, whose fine efforts found them at the end of the game with 55 points between them to collapse Gould.

On January 12, 1962, Gould journeyed to Norway, Maine, to play their first game of the new year, which also was their worst game of the whole season. The five just didn't settle down and McFalls breezed to an easy victory, supported by Rick Bryant with 21 points and Stimson with 19 points. Scoring honors for the Huskies went to Paul Hamilton with 14 points and Em Merrill with 11 points.

Back on our own court we played Fryeburg for the second time. Although again Fryeburg won by a substantial score, the Huskies held their own until the last quarter at which time the score was 51-49 in Fryeburg's favor. The pressure was too much for our five, however, and our team fell apart in the last quarter to give Fryeburg another victory. Dale Stevens and Owen Melville distinguished themselves in this game with 15 and 14 points respectively.

At this time in the season Gould seemed to be improving noticeably. So at the second Jay-Gould contest, the game was much more exciting than the first such contest. The final score was 75-62 in favor of Jay, but the game was close until the very end. Bill Henry, the big gun for Jay, who previously got 30 points when Gould played Jay, was held to 19 points. However, John Tournier had a good night and threw in 26 to finish off Gould. For the Huskies, Paul Hamilton threw in 22 points with Owen Melville and Scott Cummings getting 13 apiece.

When the Gould team traveled to South Paris for their final game with Oxford Hills High School, they were hampered with bad luck. Both teams played sloppy ball. Scott Cummings was the only one on either team who could put the ball through the loop with any consistency. Even though this game was lost, the team did not feel that it was a meaningful game because both teams played so poorly.

Mechanic Falls has been noted in the past for its fine record of having a good basketball team, and it certainly held up this tradition in the 1961-1962 season. The Huskies' second encounter with the Mechanic Falls' five was quite different from the first. There was no easy victory to be had by McFalls as had been the case previously. At last the final buzzer sounded, Mechanic Falls was in front, but they had earned this honor. Scott Cummings lead the attack on the Falls' five with 18 points. Rick Bryant for the McFalls club had 27 points at game's end and was the deciding man in the contest.

It feels good to win, and Gould finally got this feeling when the five encountered Saint Patrick's of Berlin, New Hampshire. The Huskies played a tremendous game and didn't look at all like the same team which had been losing all season. Scott Cummings was high scorer with 33 points and followed closely by teammate Paul Hamilton with 31 points for a total of 64 points between the two and a highlight in the season.

Mexico High School this year had a well playing team, spurred on by Lee Stanley with a nice jump shot. When the Huskies played Mexico for the first time, there were few who thought that it would be much of a contest, but it turned out to be just that.

Lee Stanley had 32 points at the end of the game, and he was the deciding factor in the game. The ball handling was very well balanced on both sides, however, and the brand of game Gould played was far superior than anybody had seen them play previously. It was close all the way, but finally Mexico managed to squeak by with a one point victory, Gould 61, Mexico 62. A nice game.

Gould next traveled to Bridgton, Maine for her final contest with Bridgton. Bridgton had a weak club but Ken Whitney was a strong pillar in their offense. The game was well played and Gould was leading, much of the time. Whitney's terrific eye captured him 36 points, however, and this proved to be too much for the Huskies. The final score was 79-70 in favor of Bridgton. Paul Hamilton, Scott Cummings and Allan Ring starred for the Huskies with 20, 17, and 16 points respectively.

Gould's last league game of the season is one that I am sure will be long remembered. Mexico was worried about this game because of our apparent improvement over the first of the season, and they had reason to be. The game turned out to be very close, and the Pintos beat the Huskies only after a double overtime. Stanley again starred for Mexico with 27 points while Al Ring, Paul Hamilton and Scott Cummings had 19, 18, and 18 points for Gould.

Gould's last non-league game was also a thriller which turned out in favor of Gould. The boys had tremendous initiative to win this game because it was the last game of the season. When the final buzzer sounded, it ended a not very prosperous season for Gould, but winning is not always important. True, the main goal is to win, but good sportsmanship and a competitive spirit are also very important.

Baseball - 1961

The arrival of spring in 1961 brought forth another successful season for the Gould team in which they regained the Western Maine Conference Title. In winning the championship, the Gould team compiled a record of eleven wins and one loss.

The Gould team was helped much by having nine returning lettermen from the previous year. They were: Capt. Don Rice, Jeff Hutchins, Ken Bennett, Dick York, Dave Salway, Em Merrill, Steve Saunders, Owen Melville, Dave Hawkes, and mgr. Clarkson Edwards.

The first day of practice on Alumni Field was held on April 19. Two days later a five-inning practice game was held with Gorham, New Hampshire which ended in a tie score of four all.

Gould salted the Western Maine Conference title with a comeback 10-7 triumph over Bridgton High School. The Huskies put together three walks, three hits and a pair of miscues for five runs in the seventh inning to erase a 7-3 Black Hawk advantage and added two insurance tallies in the eighth. Reliever Dick York, who worked the last five frames, was credited with the victory.

The end of the season found Jeff Hutchins taking hitting honors with an average of .408. He was followed by Owen Melville .321, Steve Saunders .306, Em Merrill .271, and Capt. Don Rice .265.

Dick York and Charlie Newell turned in fine jobs from the mound, York having six wins, Newell having four wins with Hutchins taking the other win.

Graduation took the following lettermen: Capt. Don Rice, Jeff Hutchins, Ken Bennett, Dick York, Dave Salway, Dick Ramage and Fred Des Roches, leaving as a nucleus for the 1962 season the following lettermen: Em Merrill, Owen Melville, Steve Saunders, Scott Cummings, Dave Hawkes, and Charlie Newell.

In a balloting held at the end of the season, Em Merrill was chosen to captain the 1962 team.

Baseball - 1962

Baseball began around the first of April with practice sessions being held in the cage. Gould had six returning lettermen which formed a strong nucleus for the team. They were: Merrill (Capt.), Melville, Saunders, Cummings, Hawkes and Newell.

Gould retained their Western Maine Conference title with nine wins and one loss. Gould won the title when they defeated Fryeburg by a score of twelve to twenty-four. The Huskies came from behind in the third inning when Fryeburg led nine to one. The Huskies had one remaining game with Mexico which was won.

Charlie Newell did a fine job of pitching with eight wins, and Moulton and Nowlin each had one win. The end of the season found Don Nowlin and Dale Stevens taking hitting honors with an average of .375. They were followed by Saunders .356, Merrill .349, and Hawkes .304.

Graduation took the following boys: Merrill, Melville, Saunders, Hawkes, Newell, and Cummings.

Bruce Moulton was elected to captain the 1962-63 baseball team. The best of luck is wished to him and Coach Bowhay for another successful season.

Track - 1961

The spring of 1961 found many old and new boys out for track. Coaches "Joe" Roderick and Mr. Scott set about developing a team of great depth; consequently, the team enjoyed a very fine season.

Despite losing the Androscoggin Valley and county meets, the team came back strong to win the state meet.

In Gould's opening three-way meet with Rumford and Mexico, Gould came out the victor with $74\frac{1}{4}$ points to $68\frac{1}{2}$ for Rumford and $11\frac{1}{4}$ for Mexico. Although Rumford had seven firsts to six for Gould, depth proved to be the winning factor for the Huskies. Weston led the way with 10 points by getting a first in broad jump, a second in the 100, and a third in the low hurdles. Moody also scored 10 points by sweeping the sprints. Les Scattergood won the javelin with a record-breaking throw of 160 feet and 6 inches. He also scored a second in the discus and a fourth in the shot. Judkins and Grover clenched the victory by finishing one-two in the two mile.

On May 5 Gould easily beat host Farmington by a score of $88\frac{1}{2}$ to $28\frac{1}{4}$. Piscataquis trailed with $24\frac{1}{4}$ points. Lincoln was high man with 17 points. He scored first in the pole vault and broad jump and tied for first with Weston in the low hurdles. Scattergood placed first in the javelin and shot and third in the discus for a total of 12 points. Moody scored 10 points in winning the 100 and 220.

In a tri-meet with Cony and Lewiston, Gould came out on top with 84 points to 41 for Cony and 29 for Lewiston. Moody scored 15 points by winning the broad jump, 100 and 200. The victory was highlighted by Scattergood's 172 foot-1 inch throw in the javelin and Judkins' record time of 10:16 $\frac{1}{5}$ in the two-mile.

In the Androscoggin Valley Meet Gould came out third, trailing Edward Little and Morse. Lincoln scored a first in the pole vault and Judkins a first for a meet record of 10:16 $\frac{4}{5}$ in the two-mile. Although Gould managed only two firsts, the depth kept the team in the meet. The 880 relay, the last event of the day, clinched the victory for Edward Little when both Morse and Gould were disqualified.

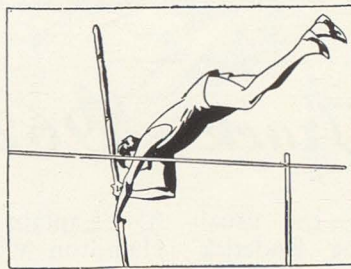

In the Oxford County Meet on May 29 at Gould, Rumford scored 61 $\frac{1}{5}$ points to 44 $\frac{3}{4}$ for Gould. It turned out to be the worst meet for the Huskies; they managed to get only two firsts and a tie for another. Moody won the broad jump but had to settle for second in the 100 and 220. Judkins placed first in the two-mile and Rutherford tied in the 440 with Hoyt of Rumford.

In the state meet at Bangor, Gould came back with a strong win. It was Gould's tenth win out of the nineteen state meets held. Placing first were Moody in the 100 and 220, Scattergood in the javelin, and Judkins in the two-mile. The performance of the team was outstanding. Only two of the boys failed to score.

The 1962 team, captained by Allan Ring, will have to work hard to repeat such a strong season.

Track - 1962

Along with spring came the usual track preparations. Coach "Joe" Roderick was looking over his prospects, trying to sum up a mental image of this year's track team. A good group showed up for the first meeting. "Joe" had four lettermen, Captain Al Ring, Fred Judkins, Danny Grover and Bill Stowell, returning for another year. These were his four aces that had to hold his green team together. "Joe" now had to work hard and build them into a winning team.

In the first meet the Panthers of Rumford out-ran the Huskies by a score of 73 to 56. Star Fred Judkins was high scorer with 10 points. He earned these by winning the mile and half mile. Other high scorers were Brian McCrodden with 8½, Captain Ring with 6 and "Topper" Hamilton with 5.

The meet with Farmington was canceled because of rain. Many of the boys had been looking forward to this meet to earn the points for their letters.

On May 12 Gould pounded its opponents with a score of 96½ points; Oxford Hills managed to grab 35½ and Mechanic Falls trailed with 22. Captain Ring starred in this meet with 11 points, Judkins getting 10 and Hamilton 7. Practically everybody scored a few points in this meet.

On May 26 Gould's Huskies journeyed to Lewiston for the annual Andy Valley track competition held at Garcelon Field at Bates College. Gould, the only class M school, wound up last. The rain-soaked track was very sloppy and slow. Ed Tibbetts was Gould's sole winner with a first in the two mile. Judkins scored the most points by grabbing second place in both the mile and the half mile.

In the county meet at Gould, Gould placed second to Rumford. The scores were Rumford 77, Gould 56, Oxford Hills 22½, Fryeburg 6½, and Mexico last with 4½. Judkins and Hamilton both won top honors with 10 points apiece. Ring got 7 points in this meet.

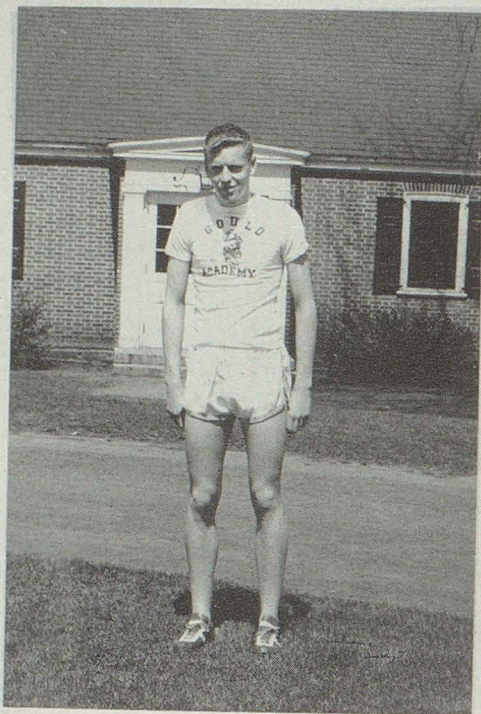

Finally the boys journeyed to Bangor for the long awaited state meet. Here they were to meet their hardest competition. Only four boys scored to drop Gould to sixth place. Again Gould's ace runner, Fred Judkins, was the team's high scorer with 13 points. He won the mile with a time of only 6/10 of a second off the state record. In the half mile he was sprinted out at the finish, losing by only a knat's leg. Ed Tibbetts easily took the two mile for 8 points. Hamilton got a fifth in the javelin and a fourth in the discus for a total of three points. Corey Brown got a fourth in the 440 for 2 points.

Although Gould won only one meet this year, many younger boys got good experience. Prospects look good for next year, and everyone is sure that Coach Roderick will build another championship team.

 Second row: Mr. Vogt, Mr. Myers, Mr. Robert Keniston, Mr. Anderson, Stephen Saunders.

Athletic Council

The Gould Academy Athletic Council, with our headmaster, Edmond J. Vachon, acting as chairman, is responsible for formulating, reviewing, and approving all interscholastic athletic schedules, estimating budgets, and approving all expenditures. Among its other functions are authorizing the hiring of athletic officials for home games, constructing policies pertaining to athletic injuries received by team members, and approving the letter awards to students who have fulfilled the necessary requirements for earning them.

The council is made up of five permanent members, two ex-officio members, and four elective members.

The five permanent members are as follows: Mr. Edmond J. Vachon, Headmaster; Mr. Ordell H. Anderson, Director of Athletics; Mr. Wilbur Myers, Bursar;

Mr. Richmond Roderick, Boys' Physical Education Director; Miss Lucille Brouillard, Girls' Physical Education Director.

The two ex-officio members who are elected by the permanent and elective members are as follows: Mr. Murray W. Thurston, Representative of the Board of Trustees; and Mr. Robert Kenniston, a representative of the Alumni Association.

Elective members, having one-year terms of office who have served on the 1961-62 council are the following: Mr. George Bowhay and Mr. Frank Vogt, Coaches at Large; Steve Saunders, President of the Student Council; and Claudia DeMonte, President of the Girls' Athletic Association.

During the 1960-61 season of baseball and track the council approved the awarding of letters to the following:

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Girls' Athletic Association

The Girls' Athletic Association is one of the most active organizations at Gould. Its purpose is to promote interest in the intramural sports program and to emphasize sportsmanship, service and school spirit. Under the leadership of the president, Claudia DeMonte; vice-president, Norma Kimball; secretary, Joanne Runyon; treasurer, Betsy Vinton, and our new physical education director and advisor, Miss Brouillard, the association has had a very successful year.

Every girl enrolled in the school is an associate member of the organization and may attend all meetings and discussions but will have no voting power or the right to hold office. Those girls who have earned 10 points and have paid their dues will be active members, having full voting power and the right to hold office.

Every spring the active members elect a council for the following year, consisting of four officers, three class representatives and managers and assistant managers for each sport.

Concerning the point system of the intramural program, all girls who attend the required number of scheduled meetings will receive 5 points, 2 more for class team, one for Blue and Gold team, and 3 points for a Sports Day team. Girls who have earned 50 points receive class numerals, a school letter for 100 points, a pin for 150 points, and plaques are awarded at class day exercises to those senior girls who have earned 200 points.

The A. A. sponsors several events throughout the year. These include the Welcome Tea in September for all new girls, a fall sports day with Kents Hill, the annual Halloween Party in October, a winter and spring Sports Day, and apparatus demonstration in March, the Award Banquet in May and the annual council overnight in May.

The Association builds up school spirit, being responsible for the Cheerleaders. It earns money by selling food at the football and basketball games; this year the council also sold blue and gold shakers for the football games.

It is a true fact that every girl who belongs to the A. A. is especially proud to be affiliated with this organization. The Girls' Athletic Association is truly worthy of the reputation that it has earned over the past years.

Girls' Physical Education

Last spring the girls' athletic program ended in a softball tournament which the juniors, now seniors, won.

This year the girls have had to forfeit Miss Alice Duffy, gym teacher at Gould for the past six years, to France, but they have been under the capable direction of Miss Lucille Brouillard from Augusta, Maine.

This fall started out with enthusiasts flocking to the hockey field with an hour filled with bumps and bruises but fun. After many practices, the class teams were chosen. The seniors won with the juniors second. Then the Blue and Gold teams were chosen from all four classes, but because of poor weather the final game of the hockey season was not played off.

Other fall sports which were of great interest were tennis and archery. Under the supervision of Mrs. Richardson, the girls put in many hours of work which they enjoyed immensely.

Many energetic Gouldsters, inspired by the wonderful fall weather and scenery, enjoyed the long hikes that were taken. The Mount Washington hike was the most looked forward to of all.

Next on the agenda was volleyball, in which the juniors and seniors tied. The seniors played the women faculty and came out on top. After volleyball modern dance was injected into the agenda. The girls seemed to enjoy it and were able to express their moods in many dances.

Snow came early, much to the delight of the ardent outdoor athletes, and skiing got off to a big start. The girls were divided into different classes, depending upon their ability. The classes were under the direction of Uel Gardner, the ski school director at Sunday River Skiway. They learned everything from the snow-plow to welden.

Skiing did not hinder basketball, which was an ardent rival and many found time for both. This year a few of the rules were changed to the delight of many. The new rules made the game faster and more interesting.

After basketball we had badminton, ping pong, the trampoline, and apparatus.

After spring vacation, 84 girls started taking courses in First Aid. The girls' gym was under reconstruction; therefore, the girls' didn't have the use of it. Softball started as soon as the snow left. A new sport was introduced to the Gould girls, soccer.

Much credit is due to Miss Brouillard for the success in her classes. Miss Brouillard never hesitated to give up her spare time to help us and also join in the games. Her new ideas, put to work in her carefully planned program, have made athletics more interesting for the girls.

BETH ANN BROWN, '62

Boys' Physical Education

Every Gould boy looks forward to the daily forty-five minute diversion from his studies that he gets in "gym". Directed under the watchful eye of "Joe" Roderick, these physical education classes are carefully planned to be part work, part play, and all fun.

The typical class begins with each boy running a given number of laps and then doing some calisthenics. This work completed, the class gathers to learn or practice a new physical skill or to engage in friendly team competition with his classmates.

In the fall, soccer, touch football, and speedball are the prevailing sports. On cold or rainy days the classes move indoors and play volleyball or fistball. On these occasions experienced boys instruct newcomers in games such as paddleball. Before or during hunting season "Joe" usually spends a class or two explaining hunting laws and teaching the correct use of firearms. Later in the fall he repeats this procedure with trapping.

In the winter a great variety of things is learned in the indoor classes. First of all "Joe" teaches each boy the fundamentals of using the trampoline. After the basketball floor has been laid, number basketball, a sport in which everyone gets an equal opportunity to participate, prevails for several weeks. Then "Joe" begins the tumbling. Starting with easy stunts and exercises, he gradually increases the difficulty until really spectacular results are produced. Juniors and seniors, more thoroughly developed than the underclassmen, are carefully instructed in the use of Gould's gymnastic apparatus.

"Joe" believes that every boy should know something about the art of self-defense, so during the last few weeks of the winter term, he instructs his classes in wrestling and boxing.

To add color to an occasional Friday gym class "Joe" has invented a unique form of gambling, which he calls "Double or Nothing". If the boys want to take a chance, he will flip a coin to see whether the class gets "double", twice as many exercises and laps as usual, or "nothing", a free period.

The winter term is also the time for corrective exercises. If a boy has a minor physical weakness or difficulty, "Joe" will prescribe a list of exercises for him to do to correct it.

In the spring each class is split into two rival teams to compete in softball and in track events. Variety comes when "Joe" declares that this is the day for cageball. This is a rough-and-tumble game with practically no rules at all, and everyone enjoys its wild excitement.

"Joe" plans his classes so that everyone learns a little about a lot of sports. He hopes that each boy will find something that interests him greatly and which he will pursue more thoroughly after school. Joe's desk is always piled with reading matter on all kinds of sports which he encourages interested boys to examine.

This year Gould boys believed for a time that gym class would be radically changed. In the fall Gould—spurred by President Kennedy's appeal for better physical fitness among America's youth—planned to install a commando course for the boys to run each day. Fortunately, in the opinion of those most closely involved, difficulties prevented its installation.

Also, there has been much speculation about what is to become of the girls' gym classes while the girls' gym is under construction.

In short, "Joe's" physical education program is interesting and efficient. Semi-annual strength tests show remarkable results. Indeed, Gould graduates are among the most physically fit youths in the nation.

GEORGE EYPPER, '63

Alumni - Class of 1961

A year's interval finds the members of the class of 1961 scattered in many directions and engaged in various endeavors.

The University of Maine boasts its usual fair share in the persons of Sally Burns, Kathy Twitchell, Carolyn Chapman, Freda Gammon, Rupert Grover, Merry Ring, Marcia Savage, George Morse, Pam Young, and Richard Bennett.

At Farmington State Teachers' College we find Hilda Andrews and Dixie Lea Brown. At Gorham Teachers' College are Jim Bennett and Jean Waterhouse. Phyllis Kimball is attending Aroostook State Teachers' College. Dave Lombard is at Nasson College, and Lee Wilbur is at Maine Central Institute.

Nurse's training has claimed Donna Rice, who is at the Central Maine General Hospital in Lewiston, Maine.

Pam Perkins and Sandra Shipp are at Westbrook Junior College.

Near-by New Hampshire has assimilated Helen Miller and Robin Longley, both at the state university and Jill Dupont, who is at Rivier College, and Carol Wilson at Colby Junior College.

Valedictorian Ann Ordway is pursuing studies at Wellesley College and Salutatorian Louise Kennedy at Bates.

Continuing a long-evident trend, Massachusetts has attracted a number of Gould graduates: Paul Calef, Arthur Swift, and Yvon Favreau are at Northeastern University. Fred DesRoches is at the Bentley School. Deborah Hammond and David Reilly are at Boston University. Simmons College numbers Susan Hutchinson among its students. John Kelley is at Worcester Polytechnical Institute. At Wheelock we find Ann Tribou and Gloria Williams. Clarkson College has claimed Glen Whitehouse. Mary Willard is at Sargent College. Sandra Allen, Linda Brown, Linda Hatch, Elizabeth Jackson, and Louise Lincoln can be found at Burdett.

Carol Annett is at Auburn School of Commerce and Sheila Bastian is at Southern Connecticut State College.

In the Empire state we find Carol Bilderback at the Grace Downs Airline School, and Shirley Hendrick at Sarah Lawrence College.

A student at the Comptometer School in Portland is Marijane Brown.

Traveling further south, we find Liz Arata at the University of West Virginia and Jane Ashcraft at the University of Delaware.

Working in the Bethel vicinity are Gloria Duran, Roma Bennett, Juanita Bernier, Kennard Bennett, Donnie Rice, Pam Tyler, Peter Stowell, and Stan Moore.

Jerry Freeman is working in Boston, and Jim Bartlett is employed in Portsmouth, New Hampshire.

Marriage has claimed Tammy Daye, Lorenda Freeman, Betty King, Melvina Learned, and Cynthia Burris.

David Salway is at Husson College.

Arturo Gutierrez is at the Missouri School of Mines.

Fred Lincoln is at Bowdoin College and Mary Head is at Bangor Theological Seminary. Georges Damone and Chris Angevine are taking the post-graduate course here at Gould.

Out west we find Nikki McMillin at the University of Denver.

In the armed forces are Lindon Felt, Air Force, Alex Foster, Marines, Richard York, Air Force, and Jeff Hutchins is at Maine Maritime Academy.

To complete the tri-state representation, in Vermont are Bill Call, Middlebury College, Claire Marx, Vermont Junior College, and Richard Ramage, Norwich University.
